PROBLEM STATEMENT

In the digital era, professionals need an online presence to showcase their work, skills, and contact details. A static portfolio website serves as a digital resume that allows potential employers, clients, and collaborators to easily learn about the person and their expertise.

PROJECT OVERVIEW

This project is a personal portfolio website for Viknesh.B, designed using HTML and CSS only. It highlights professional details such as profile photo, tagline, skills, projects, and contact information in a clean, modern, and responsive layout.

WHO ARE THE END USERS?

Hiring managers/recruiters – to check skills and projects.

Clients – to explore creative design services.

Peers and collaborators – to connect and work together.

General audience – to know more about the person.

TOOLS AND TECHNIQUES

HTML5 – for the structure of the website.

CSS3 – for styling, gradients, layout, and responsiveness.

Postimg.cc – for hosting the profile image.

Web browser – to run and test the website (Chrome, Edge, Firefox, etc.).

POTFOLIO DESIGN AND LAYOUT

Background – gradient with darktheme(#0d0d0d → #1a1a1a → #001f3f).

Container – centered card layout with rounded corners and shadows.

Profile Section – circular profile photo with glowing border and name + tagline.

Sections – About Me, Skills, Projects, Contact, and Footer.

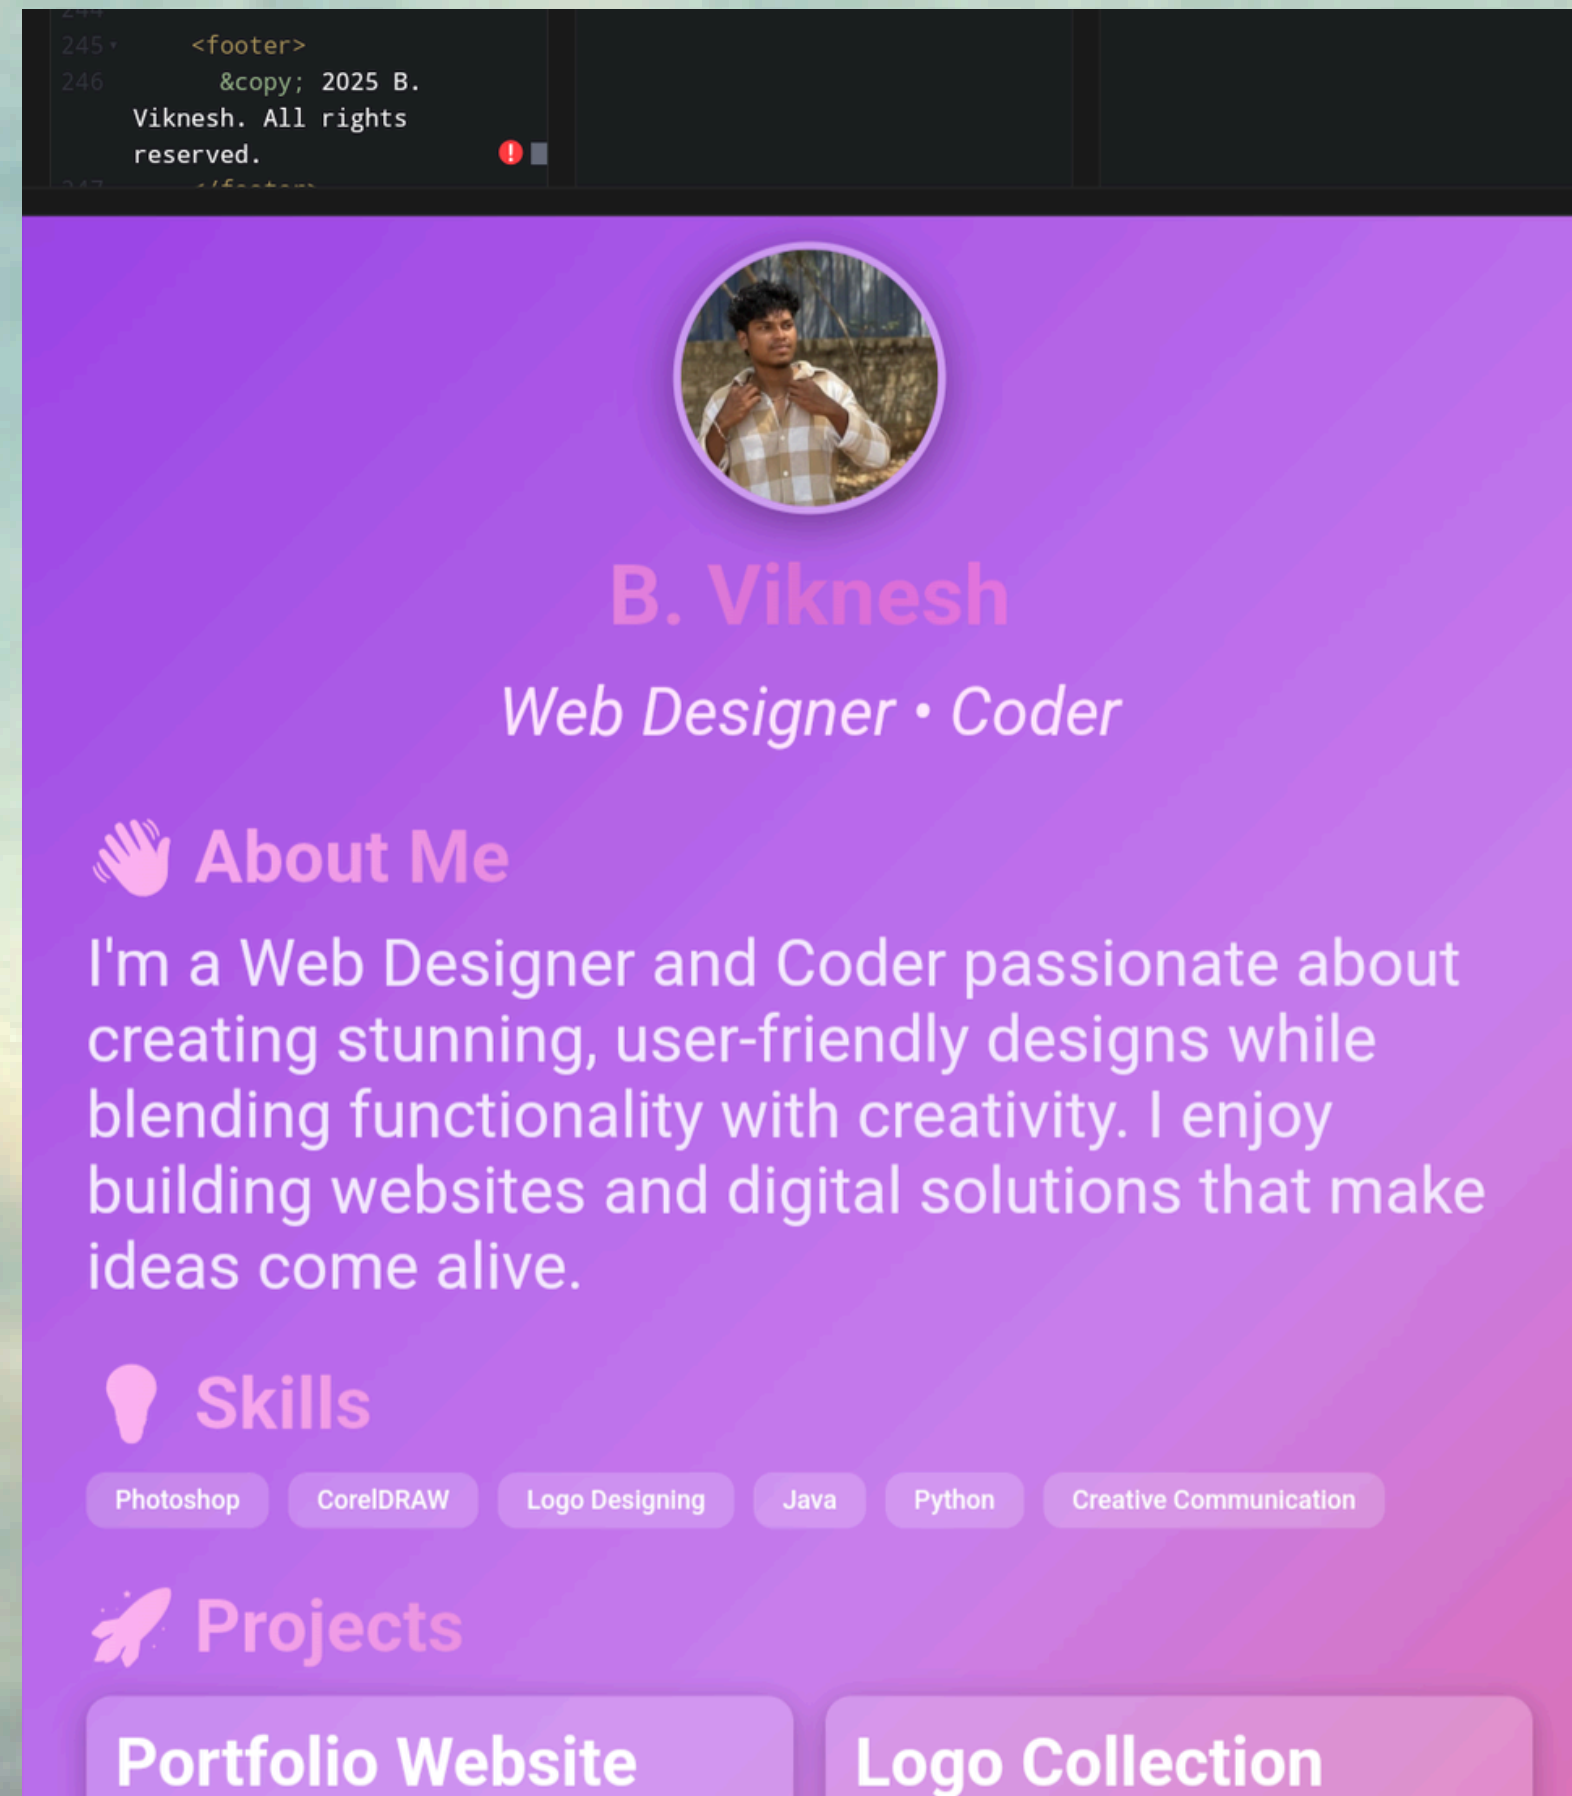

Color Scheme – Blue (#007bff, #00aaff) as highlight over a dark background.

Typography – clean font ("Segoe UI", Tahoma, Verdana).

FEATURES AND FUNCTIONALITY

- * Profile photo with border glow
- * About Me section – brief introduction
- * Skills section – listed inside stylized blue tags
- * Projects section – placeholder for future works
- * Contact section – email (click-to-mail) & phone (click-to-call) links
- " Footer – copyright information
 - * Responsiveness
- * layout – adjusts for different screen sizes

RESULTS AND SCREENSHOTS

CONCLUSION

The portfolio project demonstrates how a simple yet elegant website can be built using only HTML and CSS. It provides a professional digital identity for Jeevanandham.S, showcasing both artistic and technical skills. The design is minimalistic but effective, with scope to expand (add projects, animations, and links to social media or GitHub).
